Syndicate Transactions.

Mr. Van Tuyl was excused, and Henr Rogers Winthrop, assistant secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance society, resumed his testimony as to the syndicate transactions of his company. Mr. Winthrop said that in the syndicate organized to take the bonds issued on the reorganization of the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Equitable society was allotted $750.000 of the bonds, and the profits the society received from this transaction were 3,750 shares of Union Pacific preferred stock.

Squires in Dual Capacity.

Mr. Hughes, counsel for the committee, asked why it was that the Equitable society had paid $750,000 to the Mercantile frust company. Mr. Winthrop said it was because the checks were paid that way. Several vouchers signed by George H. Squires as secretary of a finance committee of the Equitable were shown in syidence, as also was a letter from George H. Squires for the Mercantile Trust company to General Fitzgerald of the finance committee of the Equitable society, asking for payment of $600,000, or eighty per cent of the Equitable's participation in the Union Pacific syndicate in consequence of for payment of $600,000, or eighty per cent of the Equitable's participation in the Union Pacific syndicate in consequence of a call by Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

"Then," said Mr. Hughes. "George H. Squires, first, as an officer of the Mercantile Trust company, writes to the Equitable and asks for $600,000 and then as an officer of the Equitable, signs checks paying the money to the Mercantile Trust company?" asked Mr. Hughes.

Hughes, "Yes," replied Mr. Winthrop. Fitzgerald Was in.

Mr. Winthrop said that General Louis Fitzgerald, chairman of the finance committee of the Equitable society, subscribed for $1.500,000 of the Union Pacific bonds and whoever held the bonds over the allotments of the $750,000 to the Equitable also received for profits 3.750 shares of Union Pacific preferred stock.

In a Northern Pacific syndicate the Equitable participated to the extent of $500,000 and the profits ultimately amounted to $41.362. This was not paid in cash, but in Northern Pacific shares, which appeared on the society's books.

Company's Small Profits.

Mr. Winthrop said that on Baltimore, Washington & Long Island 4s, organized by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., there were two payments, one of $500,000, the other of $50,000. The company deprived profits of $5,288 on the transaction, while J. W. Alexander, G. W. Squire and J. H. Hyde divided profits on the $500,000. When asked if the matter had been called to the attention of these gentlemen, Mr. Winthrop said:

"From information at hand," Senator Armstrong said, "it is feared he cannot recover, and in the event of his death the committee will instantly adjourn."

It was announced prior to the proceedings of the investigating committee that Jacob H. Schiff, head of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers, has been subpoenaed and will take the stand for examination either today or tomorrow. books, but the search was still being made.

A syndicate to handle Southern Pacific gold bonds was formed and Nov. 16, Speyer & Co., alloted the Equitable $250,000 of these bonds. In this syndicate also was the Western National bank. J. W. Alexander and George H. Squires, the latter three each, receiving $50,000 of the bonds. transactions of his company. Mr. throp said that in the syndicate orized to take the bonds issued on reorganization of the Union Pacific road company, the Equitable society allotted $750,000 of the bonds, and the state of the bonds, and the saction were $.750 shares of Union if to preferred stock.

The Equitable society articipated to the extent of $60,000 and actually paid in $472,000. The Equitable bought $1,000,000 worth of the bonds in the open market at $4, though the syndicate price was $8 and interest. Mr. Winthrop did not know whether any Equitable officers were in that transaction.

Not on the Books.

During the questioning of Mr. Winthrop it was brought out that the Equitable Trust company loaned the Equitable Life Assurance society $25,996 in the name of a clerk. Eugene Barrington. Witness said this loan did not appear on the books of the Equitable Life.

In the Chicago & Northwestern syndicate, in which there was a participation of the Equitable to the extent of $1,250,00, Mr. Winthrop read a letter from Kuhn, Loeb & Co., in which that firm said it had forwarded a check for $12,500 as profits. This check witness had failed to find recorded on the books of the Equitable.

The various syndicate transactions were nouired into by Mr. Hughes. After obtaining the figures in the Japanese bond sales, Mr. Hughes asked:
"Did not the Equitable Life become a arge purchaser of these bonds?"

Gave Away the Profits.

"Yes, but we gave the profits of our purchase to the trust company," said Mr Wifthrop. Mr. Hughes was reticent with regard to the last proceedings. He stated that he intended to continue the examination of Mr. Greaves and the mysterious George H. Squire trustee account. As there are a number of entries yet to be considered in the new account, and as there is very little light upon them at present, a good deal of time will probably be consumed in trying to find out their true meaning.

Meanwhile a thunderstorm came up, and vivid lightning lit up the square while the thunder added a note of terior. Rain fell in torrents, and the combatants were finally dispersed by the police.

Save for the slience of solemnity attending the occasion, there was nothing armatic in the event. It was even less so than at the two previous trials, when disagreements were returned. Mr. Williamson sat slightly apart from the other defendants, rocking his chair back and forth, apparently less concerned than the flushed and embarassed jury, during the reading of the verdict.

It is certain that parliament will not meet Oct. 10 under the existing circumstances, and it may even be dissolved. Among the better classes it is believed everything hinges on the members of the different parties adhering to the coalition. This meeting will take the form of a national conference, and it is hoped that demonstrations will be avoided and that some way out of the meanwhile the crisis undoubtedly is a serious one.

PRESIDENT'S REBUKE TO HEYBURN

Washington, Sept. 27.-The forest service has had published in pamphlet form the correspondence of last summer between the president and Senators Heyburn and Dubois of Idaho, relative to the forest reserves in that state. Senator Heyburn took sharp exception to the government's policy, and, it appears, inclosed with some of his letters a number of newspaper clippings bearing on the subject, some of them presenting its political aspects. Referring to these, the president says in a letter

"The other clippings you send relate to party matters, and strive to make it appear that the forest reserve question in Idaho is a matter of political importance. Now, when I can properly pay heed to political interests I will do so, but I will not for one moment consent to sacrifice the interests of the people as a whole to the real or fancied interests of any individual or of any political faction. The government policy in the establishment of national forest reserves has been in effect for some time; its good results are already evident; it is a policy emphatically in the interest of the people as a whole, and especially those of the west. I cordially approve it, and I do not intend to abandon it."

In one of his letters Senator Heyburn indicated an intention to appeal from the president to congress for an adjustment of the problem

J. C. Leary gave the Americans a joint yesterday that seemed to stun them. They had not sufficiently recovered last night to know what to do in the crisis.

The provider could be a most interesting one in spite of the fact that there are few fights in prospect. Many of the most prominent Democrats in the state will be in the hall as delegates and young Democracy that will add spice to the Droceedings. Chicago, vice president of the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger Packing company, and E. B.
